All value figures are given in thousands of Kenya Shillings and where necessary figures have been adjusted to eliminate errors in total due to rounding off.

FOREWORD

Economic review

Despite the revised economic growth series as the country adopted the 1993 System of National Accounts (1993 SNA) the economy has reflected real indications of recovery that started in 2003. This continued recovery culminated in a real GDP growth of 4.3 per cent in 2004 compared to a revised growth of 2.8 per cent in 2003. Economic activity was particularly high during the first four months of 2004 before decelerating in May through to September due to drought and rising oil prices. The performance again improved in the last quarter where significant growth was recorded in various sectors i.e. Manufacturing (4.1 per cent), Construction (3.5 per cent) and Trade (9.5 per cent). Growth in the financial sector decelerated from 1.7 per cent recorded in 2003 to 1.5 per cent in 2004.

Real per capita that had been on a declining trend over the last four years grew by 1.3 per cent in 2004 from a negative 0.2 per cent decline recorded in 2003.

On the other hand broad money supply aggregate (M3X), that is, the policy benchmark expanded by 13.4 per cent to Kshs.511 billion in December 2004. Over the same period trends in various discount rates reversed from dropping rates to rising rates. The benchmark 91 days treasury bills a key investment option for the insurance industry rose marginally to 2.72 per cent by June 2004 before rising sharply in the last quarter of the year to settle at 8.04 per cent by end of December 2004. A similar trend was observed for advances against treasury bills that settled at 11.29 per cent by December 2004 up from 4.41 per cent recorded in 2003. However, the rise in these two rates did not significantly affect other discount rates in the financial market. In spite of this in real terms, most of the interest rates remained negative with the exception of the lending rates by Commercial Banks and Building Societies.

Performance in the Nairobi Stock Exchange (NSE) improved over the previous period. The volume of shares traded at the security exchange increased from Kshs.381 million to Kshs.626.3 million in 2004 representing a 64.3 per cent increase. Market turnover increased from Kshs.15.2 billion to 22.3 billion or a growth of 46.7 per cent.

The net worth of investors represented by the market capitalization declined marginally by Kshs.3.5 billion to Kshs.314.15 billion from the previous level of Kshs.317.69 billion. This was occasioned mainly by the falling prices of the Non-NSE 20 share index companies. Insurers invested approximately Kshs.12.2 billion in the shares market in 2004 compared to Kshs.11.3 billion in 2003.

Following the rise in Treasury Bills interest rates and earlier amendments to the Insurance Act, there was an increase in investments by insurance companies in this portfolio. Investment in government securities rose from Kshs.24.8 billion in 2003 to Kshs.25.2 billion in 2004.

Despite the good gains on investments, the year on year inflation rose from 9.8 per cent recorded in 2003 to 11.6 per cent in 2004. This was occasioned by a rise in prices of food items in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) basket. Similarly underlying inflation that excludes food items also rose from 3.6 per cent recorded in 2003 to 6.8 per cent in 2004. This was mainly due to rising international oil prices as well as a rise in the cost of public transport arising from the implementation of the new road safety measures, expanded domestic credit and depreciation of the Kenya Shilling against the major international currencies.

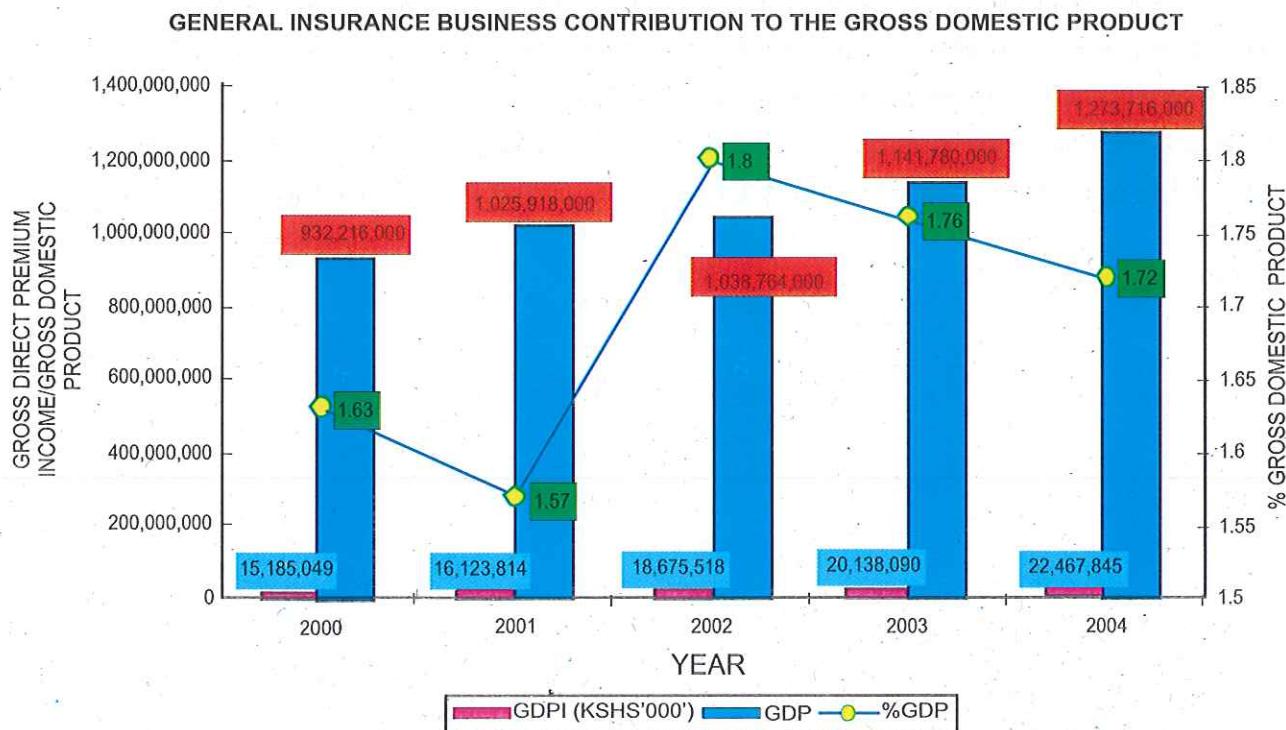

Insurance Demand

The observed improvements in economic growth, investment and employment all stand to contribute to enhanced demand for insurance services. Evidence of this is the increase in Gross Direct Premium Income underwritten by the industry to Kshs.32.5 billion in 2004 from Kshs.29.2 billion in 2003 representing growth of 11.3 per cent.

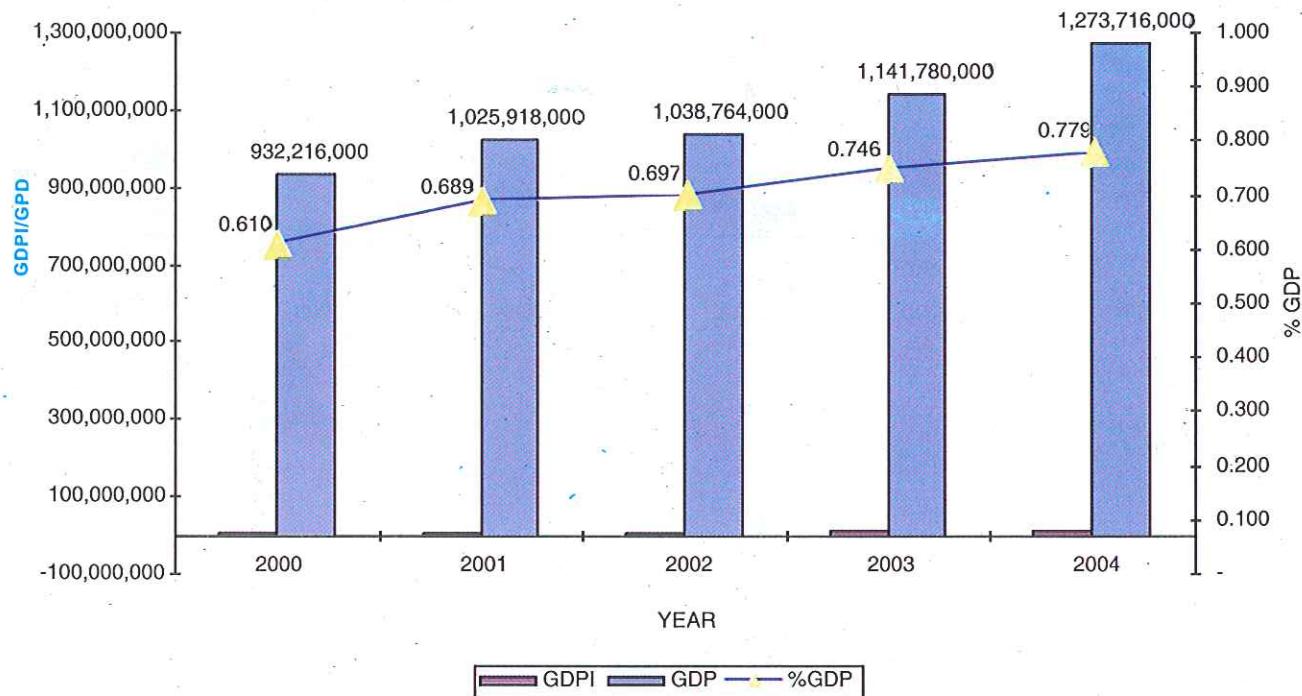

Life Business expanded by 17.6 per cent and General Business increased by 8.6 per cent. This is an indication that demand for life insurance products is on the rise. However, the penetration ratio as represented by the ratio of Gross Direct Premiums to Gross Domestic Product (GDP revised series) remained at 2.5 per cent in 2004 with life business accounting for 0.8 per cent and general business 1.7 per cent. This is reflected in the graph below.

The above graph shows the combined contribution of the entire industry to the Gross Domestic Product. The individual contribution is shown in the graphs below.

Amounts shown in billions of Kshs.

Note: Figures in this table differ from the previous Insurance Annual report due to revised Gross Domestic Product figures as the country adopted UNSNA 1993 version from the 1968 SNA that was in use up to 2003.

In view of the good performance recorded by the economy in 2004, the outlook for the year 2005 looks promising. The insurance industry still has the main challenge of providing protection against risks at reasonable and affordable premiums. In doing this, the basic tenets of professionalism, integrity and efficiency must be upheld by all participants in this industry. The other major challenge is for insurers to invest in research and development, so as to introduce product packages that will enhance the penetration ratio from the current 2.6 per cent to at least 10.0 per cent in the next 15 years. I affirm my department's commitment towards this achievement. Lastly, on behalf of the Government and staff of the Department of Insurance, I wish to thank all members of the industry and all stakeholders for their cooperation and support.

SAMMY M. MAKOVE
COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE
